Atlanta, July 15.—(AP)—Governor Eugene Talmadge said today he planned a series of speeches in the north this fall to "prevent the re-nomination of President Roosevelt."

On his return from Jacksonville where he visited the Georgia National Guard now in annual encampment, the governor was asked about reports that he had said there he planned to seek the Democratic nomination for president and would open his campaign in Illinois in September.

"I didn't say that," the governor said. "Somebody's got me wrong. I'm going up there to prevent the nomination of President Roosevelt."

"If you get what I mean."

"I'm going into the north to work for the nomination of a real Democrat. Dates for my speeches have not been definitely decided."

Quoted As Candidate

Jacksonville, Fla., July 15.—(AP)—The Jacksonville Journal today quoted Governor Eugene Talmadge of Georgia as saying he will seek the Democratic nomination for president and will open his campaign in Illinois in September.

"I'm saving Florida until last," the governor was quoted as saying. "Florida will be all right. We're neighbors. Sure, I'll get her vote at the national convention."

The bitter foe of President Roosevelt's New Deal was here to inspect Georgia National Guardsmen at Camp Foster.

He said he had not mapped his entire campaign for the presidency but would open in Illinois in September a series of speeches in the mid-west.

He dismissed questions about his political connections with Senator Huey P. Long of Louisiana with "Oh, Huey's all right, but Florida and Georgia don't believe in share-the-wealth."

Double Robbery in West Brooklyn was Reported to Sheriff

Report of a double robbery in the village of West Brooklyn was received by Sheriff Ward Miller early Sunday morning and he went at once to the village to investigate. The garage of W. B. Music apparently had been entered from the rear, where a pane of glass was removed from a window. The garage tools were ransacked and three motor driven tools and a pair of odd-sized automobile tires were removed from the building. Other tires and accessories were not molested.

A door in the rear of the garage section of the building was then jammed, gained entrance into another store room which houses the "Frenchy" Henry Tavern. Here all of the drawers, the cash register were opened and ransacked, but little of value was taken. Two quarts and two pints of whiskey were reported to have been the loot from the tavern which Mr. Henry, well known baseball player and former resident of Dixon, had acquired only last week.

Three hundred feet above the earth Noskoff finally found the cord of Kraskoff's reserve chute and opened it in time to check their fall. Both landed safely.

Never Slept: Dead

Kinsale, Irish Free State, July 15.—(AP)—Jack McCarthy, 76, a baker who baked all night and hunted all day, died today.

When he was a young man, McCarthy decided that people lost too much time sleeping. So he gradually cut down on his own sleeping until he said he was able to forego slumber entirely. He boasted that he slept less in 50 years than the average man does in six months. As to how he did it, he always declined to say.

BROTHERS SLAIN FOR 10 GAL. GAS*Tuscola Men Murdered on Highway: Stranger is Being Sought

Tuscola, Ill., July 15.—(AP)—With fingerprints and two death bulletins as clues, Douglas county authorities today sought a blonde man suspected of killing two brothers for their money and 10 gallons of gasoline.

The bodies of the victims, Edward Burmeister, 35, garage attendant, and John Burmeister, 56, were found early yesterday in a bean field by Herbert Wilson, fellow employee of Edward, who became worried by the latter's prolonged absence on a gasoline delivery. The bodies lay near the car in which they went to their deaths.

Sought in the case was the tall, slender driver of a front drive automobile who telephoned an order for gasoline from a Tuscola billboard parlor. A bystander who overheard the call said the stranger asked that the fuel be delivered to a stranded car on highway 36 west of here, where the bodies were found.

Found No Witnesses. Sheriff Clark Edwards said he found no witnesses to the double slaying, although the road was busy during the hours the bodies presumably lay in the field.

Their clothing was ransacked and the two empty five gallon cans lay nearby.

Two of the bullets were recovered for ballistics tests. Frank Figuiera, Springfield, Ill., fingerprint expert, said he found numerous prints on the brothers' automobile.

John Burmeister was not with his brother when Edward left the garage, and it was surmised the younger brother met him on the street as he left with the gasoline.

Both of the slain men were married and had families.

The entire United States has the moon tonight for a total eclipse of the moon—the first for the whole country since 1927.

The curving edge of the earth's black shadow will cut into the side of the moon at 9:12 P. M. Dixon time. That is the moment when the moon touches a black cone, the earth's shadow, which extends about 360,000 miles into space.

PUBLIC HOUSING PROJECT IN NEW DEAL HELD VOID*Appeal Court Holds Government Powerless to Condemn Land

Cincinnati, July 15.—(AP)—The Sixth District United States Circuit Court of Appeals held today the federal government has no power to condemn land for use in public housing projects.

The court acted in sustaining Judge Charles I. Dawson of Louisville, now retired from the bench, who on January 4 held condemnation for such a purpose to be illegal, through failure to come within the government's power to condemn lands for public buildings, parks, fortifications or arsenals.

Directly affected in a $1,618,000 housing project in Louisville, Ky. Indirectly, however, Secretary Ickes has said, the suit here affected the entire $160,000,000 housing program in some 40 cities.

Changed Procedure. Originating in Louisville, the suit normally would have come to the court here on appeal, but Secretary Ickes instead had it carried directly to the supreme court. On March 11, however, the government sought and obtained dismissal of its petition in that court in order to return the case here for decision. Its attorneys later appealing for early action by this court on the ground delay would "create a chaotic condition in the carrying out of the entire program of the federal emergency administrator of public works."

Judge Dawson ruled in sustaining a demurrer filed by Edward J. Gernet to condemnation proceedings seeking title to 120 parcels of property in Louisville valued at $347,668. The project there contemplated housing for 460 families.

BYPLAY IN PARK ENDED IN DEATH*Belvidere Police Seek Four Strangers After Unusual Fatality

Belvidere, Ill., July 1.—(AP)—Two men and their women companions were sought by police in connection with the death of Clifford Smith, 20, of Rockford, who died early today in the Belvidere hospital of injuries suffered during a quarrel last night.

Police said the fatal quarrel took place in Belvidere park where Smith, Paul Stimson of Rockford, and Virginia McCabe and Mary Alice Edwards, both of Belvidere, were parked.

A second automobile containing the four persons sought by police was parked nearby. Stimson said, and the men tormented the Smith party by intermittently playing a spot light on their car. Smith became weary of the byplay. Stimson related, and went over to remonstrate with the car's occupants.

Artery Severed. After a short argument, he said, the automobile began to move away and the man in the rear seat grabbed Smith's arm. As he was dragged along, Stimson said, the glass in the door was broken and an artery in Smith's arm slashed. Stimson said his friend was dragged more than 25 feet before his arm was released. The occupants of the car then sped away.

Stimson took Smith to the hospital where he died from loss of blood.

BLIND MUSICIAN THREW GIRL TO DEATH IN HOTEL*Admits the "Mercy" Death of His Partially Blind Companion

Boston, July 15.—(AP)—Forest R. Wells, 30-year-old blind accordionist, was accused today by police of having thrown his partially blind partner, Hazel Martin, 25, to death from a third floor of a Boston hotel.

Police Inspector Harry Pierce said Wells, formerly of Detroit, admitted throwing the girl from the window as "an act of mercy."

Wells, Pierce said, told of being "broke" and afraid the Martin girl, whom he met in Columbus, O., and brought here two years ago, would be in want.

Pierce quoted Wells as saying he "thought it he best thing to do" after telling of quarrels he had with the girl during the past 18 months.

Wells and the Martin girl, police said, for two years strolled through Boston's downtown business section, Wells playing an accordion and the girl singing. From the money given them by passers-by they made their living, police said.

Carbondale's Water Fight Waxing Warmer: Vote Demanded

Carbondale, Ill., July 15.—(AP)—Ten per cent of the voters of Carbondale today filed a petition asking that operation of an ordinance under which the city council abolished the municipal water commission be halted.

Attorneys for the water commission asserted that only by a decision of the voters under a referendum can the ordinance be put into effect.

The city council meanwhile ignored the petition, discharged Superintendent C. S. Gill and all employees of the municipal water plant except one, and hired new employees. Previously all of the commission's money, records and fixtures had been seized and taken to the city hall.

Mayor Leo I. Dwyer said the city council would welcome a vote on the question. Dwyer demanded today that R. A. Taylor, water commission treasurer, turn over $20,000 cash to the council.

Taylor said he would refuse to do this and would stop payment on checks written since the council assumed control of the plant.

"City of Death" in India Again Shaken

MOB OF WHITES LYNCHED NEGRO FARMERS TODAY*Two Young Mississippian Blacks Taken from Deputy

Columbus, Miss., July 15.—(AP)—Two young negro farmers, Bert Moore and Dooley Morton, each about 26, were lynched today eight miles south of Columbus. A mob of white citizens wrested the prisoners from Deputy Sheriff Parker Harris, of Lowndes county, and hanged them to an oak tree.

The negroes were arrested Sunday morning after two alleged attempts to attack a white woman, the wife of an Arkansas lumberman, who resided about a mile from Zion negro church, the site of the double lynching.

The mob, reported to have numbered about 35 men, traveling in six automobiles, seized the victims about four miles north of Columbus as Deputy Harris was seeking to spirit them away to Aberdeen for safekeeping.

The negroes were driven back through Columbus to the church eight miles south of the city, where they were hanged. Their bodies were left suspended from the tree. The mob quickly dispersed. It was reported that the hands of the victims were tied behind their backs, ropes placed around their necks and that they were dropped from the tops of moving automobiles.

No shots were fired.

Stairway for Fish in Western Dam to Cost Four Millions Instead of Mere $800,000 New Dealers Thought

Washington, D. C., July 14.—A four million dollar "stairway" for fish is one of the most recent developments to blossom forth from the New Deal's public works program, inquiry disclosed today.

The stairway has to be built around the huge Bonneville dam which is now being raised in the Columbia river in Oregon. The New Dealers are discovering that they must spend four million dollars to get fish around or over the dam if their project is not to ruin the salmon fishing industry on the river.

Mistake Cost of Stairs. PWA engineers, with little or no consultation with fishery experts,

COUPLE CAUGHT TAKING POULTRY*South Dixon Youth and Sister Apprehended Saturday Evening

Harold Huyett, aged 22, and sister Mable, 18, of South Dixon township, were arrested Saturday night about 10 o'clock on the Joseph Crawford farm, tenanted by Harry Jones, east of Dixon, when Deputy Sheriff Howard Metzler and Joe Crawford apprehended them in taking chickens in the absence of the Jones family and brought them to the county jail, where they were held until this morning when information was filed before Judge William Leech in the county court, charging larceny.

The deputy and farm owner were hidden in one of the barns when the car drove into the yard and, according to the officer, one sack of chickens had been loaded and Huyett had returned to a shed to secure another sack when the pair were surprised and placed under arrest. Huyett had been employed on the farm for several weeks, during which time several chickens had been missing which led to a report being made to Sheriff Miller, who placed a deputy at the farm in the absence of the family.

Girl Is Paroled.

At the hearing this morning in the county court, the girl was placed on probation for a period of one year. Her brother maintained surly demeanor while in court which enlisted an additional sentence by Judge Leech. He was ordered committed to the state work farm at Vandalia for a period of one year and when he made surly answer to questions by the court, Judge Leech imposed a fine of $200 and costs to be worked out at the expiration of the year sentence at a rate of $1.50 per day. Huyett indicated that another person had assisted him in the theft of poultry from his employer, but refused to "squeal" in involving his aid. Huyett recently was discharged from parole on another larceny charge for stealing an attachment from a local business man's car several months ago.

TWO SEIZED IN ROCKFORD NOT MURDER COUPLE*Swamp Murder Investigation Seems Up Against Stone Wall Today

Chicago, July 15.—(AP)—An attempt to free Mrs. Blanche Dunkel, held in the "swamp murder" of her son-in-law, Ervin Lang, failed today when Mrs. Dunkel herself announced she wished to remain in custody to help the investigators.

The gray haired prisoner, who has confessed, police said, that she paid $100 for Lang's brutal murder, was brought before Judge Cornelius J. Harrington when her sister, Mrs. Jessie Langdon, sought a writ of habeas corpus.

"Did you authorize anyone to file this petition?" the judge asked Mrs. Dunkel. The woman, who police believe hired Lang's assassin because she was jealous of his affections, said "No."

Prefers to Be Guarded. "I wish to remain with them," she said, motioning to a group of officials from the state's attorney's office.

As Mrs. Dunkel, the 43-year-old veteran of four marriages, came into court the police made a new raid in Chicago's Chinatown district in a vain search for Mrs. Evelyn Smith, 35, the former burlesque dancer Mrs. Dunkel's alleged confession charges with strangling Lang and then sawing off his legs.

Also sought, was her supposed husband, Harry Jung, a Chinese laundryman.

"There's not a trace of them," said Chief of Detectives John L. Sullivan. Meanwhile police at Rockford, Ill., seized a young Chinese and his white woman companion on suspicion that they were the swamp murder fugitives, but leaned to the belief it was a case of mistaken identity.

Were Madison People. The two identified themselves as from Madison, Wis., and Madison police said the names they gave were those of persons of good reputation there.

The Chinatown raid resulted in the arrest of Charles Jung, 40, Park Jung, 36, and Khwan Chun, 26, all found in a laundry. Capt. Thomas Duffy of the Sheffield avenue police said the three were friends of the missing man, a dapper Americanized Oriental 30 years old.

Sixteen Chinese all told, were in custody with the new arrests. Sullivan said he had learned nothing of importance from any of them.

The federal government came into the hunt when the state's attorney's office notified the immigration service Jung had entered the country illegally. They availed the small army of city police, state highway police, private railway detectives and others on the alert for the pair.

Tacoma, Wash., July 15.—(AP)—Counsel for Margaret Waley, convicted of the Weyerhaeuser kidnapping, planned new moves to keep her out of prison today, while authorities maintained silence on reports they were closing in on William Dainard, accused "brains" of the $200,000 abduction plot.

Motions for an arrest of judgment as well as for a new trial will be argued before Federal Judge E. E. Cushman Wednesday when Mrs. Waley appears for sentence.

She was convicted Saturday of "lindbergh law" charges that she kidnapped nine-year-old George Weyerhaeuser and conspired to kidnap him.

Her husband, Harmon M. Waley, who pleaded guilty and received a 45-year sentence, was back at McNeil Island federal prison today, having failed to testify for his wife at her trial.

Mahan Near Capture?

Dixon "Navy" Puts
To Sea Each Week
River 'Maneuvers'

Dixon has a navy! Every Sunday the "fleet" puts to sea, or rather, to river, and cruises up and down the wavy deep between here and Grand Detour. The more venturesome and faster and trimmer crafts attempt further expeditions up twisting Rock river seeking new scenic wonders at every hand.

Over twenty ships comprise the city's pleasure fleet. In the dreadnaught class are Floyd Emmett's "Continental" and Pete Howell's speedy "Miss Dixon." The latter vessel can make 45 miles an hour if pushed to the limit. There are several speedy "cruisers" too. Among these craft are Virgil Collins' "Collins" and W. E. Treins' "Laddie" a beautiful ship. Frank Villiger's airplane motor powered "Miss Skidaster" can stir up the billows when Rock River is most placid.

Navy Has Auxiliaries
Auxiliary vessels are not lacking in Dixon's navy. From the standpoint of speed they hold few if any honors. Some are fortunate enough to make the trip between the docks above the dam and Lowell Park in a couple of hours. Others are fortunate enough, with some encouragement, to remain above the water at all. Still others are very presentable boats and give fine service. Included in this fulltime list are Carl Buchner's "Nichevo," Dr. D. L. Murphy's trim "Muzzle II," Harold Steward's "Bluebird," Dr. Burke's "Nogoe," Fred Stokoe's "Mae Bee," George Tyler's "The Family Joy," "Miss Chievious" owned by Johnny White, and "Arkanar," the ship of V. Christensen.

Mexican Divorce Attorneys Face Fight of Bar Association

Los Angeles, July 15—(AP)—Definite action to curb "Mexican divorce lawyers" was among the things to be considered by the annual convention of the American Bar Association openings today. More than 2,400 delegates were here for the gathering.

In addition to considering divorce lawyers whose specialty is obtaining divorces below the border, the association also was to take up more stringent methods for prompt disbarment of unethical lawyers.

Committee recommendations on widespread phases of legal reform will be given to the delegates this week. Among these are the proposed creation of a Department of Justice in every state the use of less than a unanimous jury verdict, except in major felonies; the permission of court and counsel to comment to the jury on the failure of the defendant to testify in his own behalf; extradition of persons of unsound mind, and proposals for medico-legal institutes and for better training and closer cooperation of police.

Bordens, Clothiers Victors Sunday Eve

Underwood scored for the Knacks in the fourth inning on a sneak home after hitting a three bagger.

In the Bordens-Winks game in which Daniels pitched again for the losers, Deits slammed a home run to win the game for the Milkmen. The Clothiers win left the Greenies perched on top of the league heap.

WHO KNOWS?

By Joseph Fort Newton

One of the most famous painters of our day was at one time an utter sot, drowned in drink. His skill was gone, and he seemed lost beyond recall, and his friends gave him up. One day, sitting in the corner of a club, he overheard two of his old friends talking about him in tones of pity. Something snapped into life in him, something which everybody thought dead.

Joining his friends a moment later, he refused the drink they tolerantly offered him, saying, "I'm through with that stuff." A roar of laughter greeted his words. They knew their man, through and through—but thirty years have passed and he has not faltered!

If ever any person knew Ulysses Grant, it was his wife. She was sure of her man, sure he was a failure—and it looked like she was right. It looked like a hopeless case and she accepted it.

Cashiered out of the army, a failure as a farmer and real estate salesman, he was supported by his indulgent brothers as a clerk in a tannery. His fate seemed settled—then the Civil War broke out.

With a sigh in his heart his wife saw the stumpy little middle-aged man walk out of the door with an air of valise in his hand. She was sure what would happen; she knew her man so well.

But she did not know that in four years he was to become Commander-in-Chief of the Union Army, and that a little later he was to make her what she had never dreamed of being—the First Lady.

Know each other, do we? Because we have so long looked into another face across the table, and exchanged small talk, we fancy we know him. No, only God knows what lies hidden in a human life.

If only we knew how to touch and tap the unused, unguessed power in men, unguessed by themselves, what things we could do in this world. In all of us there is dynamite waiting for the spark!

It may fall any day, wake us up from a sleep, set us on fire, and send us to do some beautiful thing for our race!

Over Two Hundred At Young People's Rally, Dixon, Sunday

The young people's rally at the Dixon Brethren church Sunday, was a decided success, not only from the standpoint of attendance but also of the type and quality of the program which represented some splendid talent. Over two hundred delegates from Brethren churches of northern Illinois were present from Sterling, Polo, Mount Morris, Milledgeville, Lanark, Freeport, Franklin Grove, Elgin, Pine Creek West Branch and other communities. Miss Hazel Kimmel, president of the young people's association of Northern Illinois was chairman of the afternoon meeting. Rev. Clyde Forney of Elgin gave the main address on the subject of "The Home." Other short talks were made and special selections were given from various churches represented. A short recreation period was enjoyed at the park one block east of the church at five o'clock. Lunch was served from the church basement. Perhaps the out of town folks enjoyed no part of the program any more than the tour of our beautiful city with over fifty cars in the procession directed by the police squad car.

The evening service was conducted from a beautiful hillside in L. G. Meppin's pasture where the landscape the river, the valley, and trees made nature appear at its best. This service was broken up by the rain but every one felt that they had a wonderful day and many compliments were heard for the fine way in which the Dixon people entertained their guests.

McConnell-Mobbs Wedding in Byron

Miss Katherine Jane McConnell and Edward C. Mobbs, both of Chicago, were married at 4 p. m. Saturday at the Methodist Episcopal church in Byron, the Rev. W. J. Hopkins officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Vonard H. Johnston, also of Chicago attended the couple. The bride's mother, Mrs. Jane McConnell, was a Chicago guest at the wedding.

The bride is well known in Byron, as she made her home there with her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Heinley, while attending school.

The bride wore a white crepe ensemble, and her patron of honor wore a print ensemble.

A dinner was served by Mr. and Mrs. Heinley at their home following the ceremony. Mr. Mobbs and his bride left for a wedding trip in Wisconsin, after which they will reside in Chicago.

Queen Marie Experienced Another Thrill

Bucharest, Rumania, July 15—(AP)—Dowager Queen Marie of Rumania added another thrill to her long list of exciting experiences today when the train on which she was traveling to her summer villa at Sinaia caught fire twice.

Members of the train crew, discovering the vestibule between two cars afire, turned firemen and quenched the conflagration. A short time later, when the train was 25 miles from Sinaia, another fire broke out, threatening to smoke out the royal passenger. This, too, was extinguished and Marie arrived safely at her destination, delayed but unscathed.

Friends Greet the Wm. B. Johnsons

New Books of Interest at Library

Anthology of World Prose—Van Doren. A generous collection containing representative works from Confucius to Thomas Wolfe.

Short Story Case Book—O'Brien. Mr. O'Brien says "All that I can do is to point the way toward an appreciative study of what the best writers have found out to be the most suitable method in the individual case." This the author does, an analyses each paragraph.

Indian Craft and Indian Lore—Salomon. A valuable book that tells how various articles connected with Indian life were made. Chapters on firemaking, cooking, games, dance steps and music, and one on producing an Indian pageant. Well illustrated. Especially useful for scout masters and camp leaders.

Chinese Rugs—Leitch. The author claims no encyclopedia standard for his book, but he has omitted no side of the subject in the short text which is amply fortified by excellent half-tones and technical diagrams.

Red Widow Murders—Dickson. Birth of Rome—Orvieto—for children 10 and up.

Romance of Old Glory—Chambers—for children.

Peter and Gretchen of Old Nuremberg—Jones—for those 8 and up.

Kelpie the Gipsies' Pony—Williams—10 and up.

Fun at Happy Acres—Barlow—8 and up.

Eyes on the World—Schuster. It is the aim of the book to provide a photographic record of history in the-making for the year 1934 and the first part of 1935, and, with the limitations of a new and experimental technique, to suggest in some measure the background and source material for 1936 and the years to follow. An extremely interesting book.

Intercollegiate Football—Walsen

Oh, the social whirl
Is great for the girl
Whose day has just begun,
But it's rather sad
For poor old Dad
Unless the food's A-1.

WOULD you like to acquire, quite simply and easily, the reputation of making the best home-frozen desserts in three counties? You can do it by being the first homemaker in the said three counties to make your refrigerator ice cream with marshmallows!

The truth is that it is easier to make still-frozen ice cream perfectly smooth than it is to make it full of little ice crystals, though the latter is the way it comes to most tables. It is even easier than not to make ice cream at all, once your family has tried it and learned to clamor for it!

Using marshmallows is the sure way to make ice cream smooth without a bit of stirring. Besides, it cuts down the ingredients and thus simplifies the recipe; and it cuts out entirely one ingredient which almost every still-frozen ice cream contains—that is, anxiety. When you put marshmallows into your ice cream, thus turning it into a marlow, you may be perfectly assured that nothing can happen to it. If you do not operate a mechanical refrigerator, use an ice cream freezer, without agitating, or pack the mixture in a mold, and freeze in an ice-salt pack. The mold must have a tightly fitting cover, sealed with adhesive tape. You can no more help serving a perfect ice cream than you can hope to save any of it for tomorrow—although, of course, it could be kept if any of it was left to keep.

Ribbon marlow is a recipe which, when served, has an unusually festive appearance, and which endears itself especially to the lover of strawberries.

RIBBON MARLOW
20 marshmallows ½ cup crushed
1 cup milk strawberries
1 cup whipping cream
Melt marshmallows in the milk over hot water. Chill until slightly thickened and add whipping cream. Pour half the mixture into the refrigerator tray or mold, cover with crushed berries, and over these pour the remaining cream mixture. Freeze without stirring. Any other berries may be substituted for the strawberries if desired.

"First Gentleman"

Seattle, Wash., July 15—(AP)—The women of the United States were described today as ready to give some man the job of being the "first gentleman" of the land.

The possibilities of sending a woman to the White House as president was discussed by Miss Emily R. Kneubuhl, New York, secretary of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

"Women are ready for such an honor and some of them are capable of holding the position," she said on the eve of the formal opening of the federation's national convention. "But first the woman must win the support of either one or another of the great national political conventions."

"Then, once a woman is nominated, she can be elected. Her husband, of course will be some help."

Giving football statistics for 134 schools in the United States, from 1869 to 1934. Photographs of coaches, and names of all letter men in the schools given.

Training the Dog—Judy. The largest selling book published on the training of dogs.

Audels Carpenters and Builders' Guide—A practical illustrated trade assistant on modern construction for carpenters, builders, mechanics and all wood workers, explaining in concise language short cuts based on modern practice, including instructions on how to figure and calculate various jobs.

Plumbers and Steamfitters' Guide—Graham. Ready reference for plumbers, steamfitters, gas fitters, sheet metal workers, builders and engineers.

Diesel Handbook—Roshbloom. On Diesels and other classes of oil engines.

Crochet Book—King. Directions for making laces, sweaters, bags, etc.

Whatever Love Is—Chambers. A novel of modern society and the Reno divorce mill.

Pink, fashion's favorite color this summer, is the coolest-looking and, incidentally, the most expensive appearing shade you possibly can wear. There are pink linen and shantung suits for town and country, handsome pink sweaters to wear with white skirts when you weekend out of town and glamorous evening gowns in various tones of this lovely shade. ### HELPFUL HINTS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

'Must' List Aids in Fitting Kitchen With Necessities

For the young housewife who is about to fit out the kitchen with the necessary equipment here are some essentials.

She will need a good-sized cooking pot, several saucepans, a frying pan, a double boiler, a tea kettle, a coffee pot, tea pot, strainer and a roasting pan. She will also need a meat grinder, a cheese grater, measuring cup or cup in which to stir various mixtures, a potato masher, an egg beater, can opener, corkscrew, bottle opener, a strainer, cooking fork, mixing bowl, apple corer, vegetable knife and one other sharp knife, salt, pepper and flour shakers.

She may add to this list as she sees the need but these are all pretty nearly "must" requirements for the housekeeper. Of course, too, in the kitchen, she will need a waste basket of large proportions, a combination chair and step ladder, pail, mop, broom, cloths, dish pan, sink strainer, dish drainer, refuse can, dust pan and brush.

First get the essentials and as the menus become more elaborate add requirements for greater activity.

KITCHEN HINTS

Never use a pick for removing ice or frost from coils of mechanical refrigerator, much damage is likely to result. Defrost in the regular way.

Add 1 teaspoon lemon juice to a pint of whipping cream and the cream will whip quicker, provided the cream and utensils are chilled.

Dip ends of rag rugs in starch, when dry press well and the rugs will lay straight on the floor.

Summer drinks should be cooling and refreshing and yet nourishing. Fruit juices and milk drinks are suggested.

Fruits and berries deteriorate easily during warm weather. Be careful in selection and storage.

NO WAR CAN BE JUST, TO A REAL PACIFIST
The editors of the Modern Monthly recently undertook to poll a number of distinguished Americans as to their attitude in the next war. They asked these people
three questions, as follows:
What will you do when America goes to war?
Will your decision be altered if Soviet Russia is an ally of the United States in a war with Japan?
Would a prospective victory by Hitler over most of Europe move you to urge U. S. participation in opposition to Germany in order to prevent such a catastrophe?
From the wording of these questions, it seems clear that a large part of the pacifist strength in America today has definite Communist leanings; that the editors of the magazine, in other words, felt it likely that some of our peace-at-any-price spokesmen might sing a different tune if confronted with a war in which the survival of either Communism or Fascism were involved.
One of the most interesting answers received came from Archibald MacLeish, the poet. He made the point that the moment a pacifist admits he might support a
"just" war, he ceases to be a pacifist; for, he points out:
"If enough people believe that a certain type of war
might be justifiable, they the War Department will see that they get that kind of war—in print. The kind of war they have gotten in fact they will discover for themselves some years afterward."
And so, he concludes:
"There is only one possible position against the menace of militarism: absolute hostility. Any other is romantic. Any other supplies the forces desiring war with the means of securing it."
A good deal of rather loose talk has been indulged in about pacifism in this country during recent years. Much of it represents a very real and sincere determination to have nothing more to do with war; but some of it, as this questionnaire suggests, is not so much based on opposition to war itself as an opposition to certain kinds of war.
And as Mr. MacLeish points out, that kind of opposition puts no real obstacle in the path of war. It simply lays everyone involved open to a flood of propaganda.
The uncompromising pacifist is at least logical. The man who says he would support a war under certain conditions will probably be found whooping it up for the next war that comes along, no matter why it is fought or with whom.

CONFESSION OF SURRENDER
The "Roerich treaty," by which 21 American republics bind themselves to protect art galleries, museums, libraries, cathedrals, and other artistic, religious, and scientific institutions or monuments in time of war, has been ratified by the U. S. Senate. Its sponsors hope to broaden its scope until all nations have agreed to abide by its terms.
In this way it is hoped to make forever impossible
the repetition of such tragedies as the bombing of the cathedral at Rheims or the Cloth Hall at Ypres during the World War.
The idea is an excellent one, as far as it goes; and yet it must strike any thoughtful persons as being just a little bit like applying a poultice to a malignant cancer.
It is, in fact, a confession of human helplessness.
We cannot avoid war; we seem ready to give up the task as hopeless; the best we can do is to try to arrange an international understanding by which, when war comes, we shall not blow one another's artistic possessions to bits!

FURTHER ENCOURAGEMENT
There is something almost pathetic about the way we welcome every forecast of business improvement. We have been waiting a long time for the upturn that will bring us back to prosperity; can anyone blame us if we hail each sign of better times?
The latest one comes from the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. The Chamber is especially encouraged by the fact that the usual midsummer slump in trade and industry does not seem to have occurred this year, and it predicts that generally improved conditions
may be expected "before many weeks have passed."
The fact that business continues to show strength
"after five months of legislative threats" is seen as evidence of the real power of the upward movement.
This is one of the most encouraging of recent forecasts. Let us hope that it is a true sign of returning prosperity.
We are going to clean New York of sin and corruption with the help of ballots and politicians, or without them. If we don't get what we want with ballots, we'll get it through mental telepathy, through transmission of thought forces.—Father Divine.
We hear of the "nine old men" who run the country.
What a terrible aspersion that is on nine erudite, great men, learned in the law, who protect the Constitution against any one—nine men whom we should thank God
for having.—Senator Harry Moore, New Jersey.
It is foolish to talk about capital punishment as the state "taking vengeance," when it resorts to judicial surgery to get rid of such a cancerous growth on the social body.—Dr. Joseph A. Vance of Detroit.
You must have happiness in married life. The mother should be like a beloved queen.—Mrs. Joseph Aloysius Lyons, wife of Australian premier.

The octopus was rather slow, paid for that mean little trick you and Duncy yelled. "Come on, let's go! I won't enjoy this ride at all,
if you move on like this."
Then with a smile spread 'cross
her face, wee Goldy cried, "I'll take your place. Gee, if you hop off now, you'll never know just what you'll miss."
"Don't worry," answered Duncy.
"You will have to wait until I'm through. I guess each one can have a turn, but I am first of all."
"Of course, I'd rather travel
fast, but this way, my fine trip will last much longer." Then the octopus made little Duncy fall.
"Ho, ho," laughed Coppy. "You are good! You didn't hang on, as you should. The octopus tipped forward, and you slid right over his head."
It wasn't very long until all of the bunch had had the thrill of riding on the monster. Then they heard the sea man say:
"Now, you old octopus, you've been paid for that mean little trick you played. I guess you will be good, when next you come around this way."
The octopus swam out of sight,
so everything turned out all right.
Then Windy said, "Let's don our bathing suits and have a race. We haven't tried them out, as yet.
They'll feel just great to us, I'll bet. There's lots of room down here. We can swim all around the place."
Back to the sea man's house
they went and there a little while was spent in putting on the bathing suits. "Now, we're all set,"
cried one.
"Let's line up in a real straight row. Our friend can give the word to go." Another said, "Let's practice, first, before we start the fun."

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

FORESTS IN DANGER
Dear Editor,
Dixon Evening Telegraph—
I appeal to you because the National Forests are again in serious danger.
Another attempt is under way to get the National Forests and the forest work of the Government transferred from the Agricultural Department, where the forests are safe and the work well done, back to the Department of the Interior,
from which they were taken because of wretched management.
The present attempt is made under cover of an effort (Senate Bill 2665) to change the name of the Interior Department to the Department of Conservation and public Works. The transfer of the National Forests and the Forest Service is not mentioned in the bill, but is planned for later on.
Conservation is too broad a subject to be confined to any one department. Nearly all of them deal with it in one form or another. A Department of Conservation would be almost as illogical as a Department of Typewriting or a Department of Wastebaskets, which everybody has to use.
The conservation policy itself,
and about every important conservation movement for the last thirty years, originated in the Department of Agriculture. It has shown practical horse sense in dealing with natural resources intelligently, uprightly, and without fraud or loss.
In contrast, the record of the Interior Department is far and away
the worst in Washington. Every natural resource, without exception, that has been held for disposal by the Interior Department—public lands, Indian lands, coal, oil, water, power, and timber—has been wasted
and squandered at one time or another. It is one long story of fraud in public lands, theft in Indian lands, and throwing the people's property away.
Most of the fights for conservation have been made to save the natural resources belonging to the people which the Interior Department was throwing away. The National Forests must not go the same road.
Secretary of the Interior Ickes is sincere and honest, but he cannot live forever. Secretary Garfield was honest. The people's water powers and the coal lands in Alaska.
The resulting scandal cost Taft his re-election. And everybody remem-

SUN-TAN

BEGIN HERE TODAY
JO DARIEN, finishing her first year in college, learns her father is out of work. Jo gets a job as bookkeeper in a small marine supply house. She is engaged to BRET PAUL, athletic star.
DOUGLAS MARSH, handsome,
wealthy, comes to the store to buy equipment for the summer
colony he is establishing at Crest Lake. Jo works overtime, assisting with the order, and Marsh asks her to have dinner with him
the evening. When Bret telephones Jo tells him she has extra work
to do that night.
Marsh takes her to a fashionable new restaurant.
NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER VI

IN ordering the dinner Douglas Marsh, with the waiter at his elbow, asked Jo's advice several times. "You see," he said, "I'm not aware of your preferences yet."
That little word "yet" thrilled Jo unexpectedly. Did he mean anything by it, or was his adeptness at charming women something he wore of an evening, something he wore as carelessly and as attractively as his dinner jacket?
When the cocktails came he raised his own thin-stemmed glass
"Shall we drink to our new friend ship?"
Jo answered only with her eyes, and silently touched the glass to her lips. She was just a bit puzzled.
She wanted to open up and enjoy
this evening to the full; and yet she did not want Douglas Marsh to assume too much. She couldn't be at all certain of what sort of person he was. Sensible about his money, Mr. Brown had said, and a natural business man, like his well-remembered father. But where did he stand when it came to women?
What did he expect from a girl he had met casually that morning in a business office, and asked to dinner for the evening?
"Shall we dance?" he asked, interrupting her thoughts.
"I'd love to," Jo said. "That music is heavenly."
They danced together more than well. It was as if they had danced together countless evenings for many years. Jo felt light and free in his arms, following his steps instinctively. When the orchestra ended the song and began a new one, Jo and Marsh resumed their dancing without returning to the table.
When at last they returned to the tiny pink-illuminated table the waiter was ready and waiting with the soup tureen.
"I'm afraid," Marsh confessed,
"that I'd rather dance than eat—
but I insist on dinner, because we both missed lunch today."
JO found Marsh's talk as piquant and delicious as the dinner he had contrived. Seemingly he had been everywhere, and he talked of his travels easily and entertainingly. Obviously he was not talking to impress her but was speaking in an utterly natural vein, as if sure that she, too, would be interested in those things which had interested him. And interested Jo was—sometimes so interested that she did little justice to the Olympic

It was as if they had danced together countless evenings. Jo followed his steps instinctively.
Bowling excellent cuisine.
She found that, contrary to her first impression, most of Marsh's travels had been business trips,
looking after the interests his father had left him—and not gadabout voyages calculated to smother boredom.
He had most recently been in Mexico, looking after petroleum interests which concerned his estate.
"That must be where he got that beautiful tan," Jo thought, "and not on some exclusive beach, doing nothing at all." And he told her,
too, of his stay in the little kingdom of Nepal, where he had been a guest of the Maharajah. It seemed that old Aaron Marsh had once sold the Maharajah a little railroad which was used by the Maharajah and nobody else. Marsh told about it, wittily.
He told, too, about his adventures with a Bolivian congressman who pretended to be looking out for the Marsh interests in productive lands while at the same time trying to flick those lands for the Bolivian government concessions—so they could sell them to somebody else!
By the time the dessert and demitasse arrived Jo felt that she had been taken swiftly around the most romantic places of the world. Not the tourist-infested spots of the guide books, but the out-of-the-way principalities and kingdoms and republics.
"You don't seem to have stayed anywhere long enough to sleep and get a good night's rest," she laughed.
"It just sounds that way in the telling," Marsh answered. "And I'm older, perhaps, than you imagine—in this beautiful pink light. Or maybe I flatter myself. No doubt I look every one of my 35 years."
"I'll confess the truth," Jo told him, smiling. "When I first saw you I guessed 37—and then when you grinned I decided it might be anywhere from 27 to 30."
"Indeed! I must practice that grin before the mirror. Dance again!"
WHEN they returned to the table he was suddenly serious.
"You spoke about my never lighting in one place very long. That's a reason I'm so enthusiastic about Crest Lake. I like my home state better than any place I've been,
and I think Crest Lake is the most beautiful part of it. I wouldn't mind staying there a good long time."
"It is nice," Jo agreed. "I drove along one side of it a few summers ago with my parents. I've never forgotten it."
"Would you like to go there again?" asked Marsh suddenly.
Jo was taken aback at the swiftness of the question. "Why, I—see, I couldn't, now."
"There isn't much future in your job with Walt Brown. And not much money. I should imagine I'll tell you what I have in mind. At Crest Lake there ought to be a sort of official hostess—dreadful term
for it, but you know what I mean
She should be young, attractive, and intelligent. I think you might enjoy it for the summer."
For a moment Jo couldn't answer;
and then she managed a question.
"Do you really think I—I could do it?"
"I know you could do it. It would simply mean being charming —which you do naturally. If I weren't making you a business proposition, I should say that you are charming, naturally." He held out his cigarette case open. "My mother is down there, but," he laughed, "she'd balk very positively at being a hostess. And I must confess she's not the most tactful person in the world. I've understood that people refer to her as "eccentric." But you'd get along fine, I'm sure. What do you say?"
"Why, I hardly know what to say," Joan admitted.
"Say you'll take the position. It's worth a fairly decent salary. Let's say $300 a month. I'll insist on taking care of the wardrobe you'll need, and of course your rooms and board at the inn will cost you nothing."
AND now Jo was speechless in earnest. Three hundred a month—three hundred clear, with nothing out for food and clothes!
That would mean she could help
her mother and father support herself, and have a thoroughly delicious summer in enviable surroundings.
"I'll fix it up with Brown," Marsh was assuring her. "He'll probably be angry with me for taking away
the most efficient and attractive office girl he's ever had—but I'll soothe him somehow."
"It's not that," Jo said. "I've only been there one day, and I'm afraid I'm not very good at the work. But—"
"But what?"
"Well, it just seems too good to be true. It almost makes me afraid."
Marsh laughed. "Perhaps I can think up some terrible disadvantages. Would you like me to tell you that I'll insist on your scrubbing the kitchen floor every morning? It's a huge kitchen. As big as this dance floor." He grew suddenly serious again. "Please say you'll come. You're just the kind of girl I want for the place."
Slowly Jo Darien nodded. "All right... I'll come."
"Fine! I'll telephone Brown tomorrow morning. You won't even need to report for work. I'd like to have you spend tomorrow getting whatever clothes you'll need. Just buy what you like and charge them to me. It's quite all right. Part of the job you'll have to do. You'll need bathing outfits, sport clothes,
and some dinner and evening
things." He glanced at Jo admiraingly. "You're excellent taste. I leave everything to you."
"Why, I—"
"We'll say the clothes belong to Crest Lake, Incorporated. If that'll make you feel better," Marsh
laughed.
"It really would," Jo confessed.
"I was taught it isn't nice to accept such things from men."
The orchestra leader at the microphone announced the final dance of the evening, and Marsh glanced at Jo. Smiling, she rose from her place and drifted out on the dance floor in his arms. Suddenly a familiar voice sounded in her ears.
"Well, well! Hello, there, Jo Darien!"
It was Babs Montgomery. Jo knew that if Babs happened to see Bret Paul tomorrow she'd be certain to mention casually where and with whom she'd seen Jo.

has been a mounting report and impression that "The Crusaders

this firmly established organiza-

Therefore, we hope that this

2. To oppose any violation or the American people.

5. To stand firm against any drift

6. To fight for sound national is confidence in our money—and assurances of a balanced budget.

7. To insist that Government

14.
The Golden Text was, "Whether therefore ye eat, or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God" (1 Cor. 10:31).
Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Moreover, brethren, I would not that ye should be ignorant, how that all our fathers were under the cloud, and all passed through the sea; And were all baptized unto Moses in the cloud and in the sea; And did all eat the same spiritual meat; And did all drink the same spiritual drink; for their drink
of that spiritual Rock that followed them; and that Rock was Christ" (1 Cor. 10:1-4).
The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook,
"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:
"Our Master taught us mere theory,
doctrine, or belief. It was the divine Principle of all real being which he taught and practised. His proof of Christianity was no form or system of religion and worship, but Christian Science, working out the harmony of Life and Love" (p. 26).

PROLONGATION OF CONGRESS SEEMS CERTAIN

Formidable Task During Hot Weather in Cap- ital Is Seen

Washington, July 15—(AP)—Back from a week-end of fishing and shooting with President Roosevelt, Democratic leaders faced a hot weather task of truly formidable proportions today.

They sought to hasten congressional action on a weighty list of controversial subjects. Although they still were mentioning August 15 as a desirable date for adjournment, they did so only in a half-hearted way. Most of them believed the session would go considerably beyond that.

If any plans laden with significance for 1936 or for the present legislative fights were discussed during the outing at the Jefferson Island club in Chesapeake Bay, all the leaders were mum about them today.

They insisted that it was an outing—just that and nothing more. Roosevelt returned by motor from Annapolis, where he had disembarked from the government yacht Sequoia. He had a new coat of tan and he waved his hat jovially at a crowd near the dock.

Farley to Take Trip
Also returning with a party that included Vice President Garner and many other Democratic leaders was Postmaster General Farley, who had to get ready for a swing across the country starting today.

As he closed his desk, Farley still insisted that his trip to the west coast and the Hawaiian islands is "strictly a vacation." Mrs. Farley and Ambrose O'Connell, his executive assistant, are going with him.

The week-end was reported to have restored harmony between two men who have been writing pungent letters to each other over the Virgin Islands investigation. A Democrat who was on the outing said Secretary Ickes and Senator Tydings (D. Md.) spent much time together, "laughing and joking."

Last week Ickes assailed Tydings' methods in conducting the inquiry, and Tydings requested him, in effect, to attend to his own business.

Unfinished Business
Besides the Roosevelt tax program, which has yet to be drafted into bill form in the face of vehement opposition by industrial and business leaders, congress faces final action on these matters, among others:

The utilities bill, the social security bill, the amendments designed to broaden the AAA and clinch its constitutionality, the omnibus banking bill, the resolution aimed to prevent suits for recovery of damages alleged to have been suffered by the government's abrogation of the "gold clause" in its securities; the Guffey coal regulation bill. Some of these have been passed by both houses of congress, and are in conference, but on none of them has the fighting yet finished.

This country has more CCC camps than colleges and universities. There are 1640 camps as compared with 1466 institutions of higher learning.

DAILY HEALTH

ADOLESCENCE

A voluminous literature has been devoted to the subject of adolescence and its problems. Since the days of Rousseau and his confessions, numerous romantic writers, humanist philosophers, educators and psychologists have viewed with awe and at times bewilderment the growing up period of man.

Despite these monumental efforts, the public at large does not yet appreciate adequately the significance of adolescence.

Our view must include adolescence both as a period of bodily change and as a period of emotional and psychological strain.

Most of us are inclined to think of adolescence in terms principally of sexual maturation. But in addition, the adolescent boy or girl undergoes other constitutional changes.

These changes disorganize the coordination which the body had acquired. The boy who "shoots up" and who, in consequence, is now gawky, suffers a genuine lack of coordination, due largely to the fact that his skeletal system has "out-run" his muscle system, his circulation, respiration, etc.

On the psychological side the process of growing up calls for equally radical readjustments. The young adult must learn to endure an increasing amount of pain resulting from the frustration of instincts which, during his childhood days, he was permitted to follow. The adolescent must overcome his self-centered interests and turn to the outer world.

Adolescence therefore has been described properly as a period of instinctual, moral and intellectual incoordination, with attendant physical disorders. In the light of this, we can appreciate readily how deserving the adolescent is of our understanding and support—which, may we add parenthetically, he so seldom receives.

Parents would do well to consult with their physicians about the "growing up period" and its problems, as well as to read up on the subject in good, recent, mental hygiene literature.

Tomorrow—The Black Widow Spider Bite

Richmond Star Seeks Berth in Big Loop

Richmond, Va., July 15—(AP)—George Perrell, fence, busting outfielder of the Richmond team of the Piedmont league, spends his off-hours asking a riddle which goes something like this:

"If brother Wes can pitch for Boston and Brother Rick can catch, why in the world doesn't some enterprising big league mogul make room for that other deserving Perrell Boy, George, who can hit like nobody's business?"

He asked the conundrum again after knocking his fifteenth home run out of the park into the muddy James river for the league leadership. When the statistics were brought up to date the other day George with a .407 was leading all of the nation's minor league sluggers with the exception of Oscar Eckhardt of the Pacific Coast league Missions who was hitting .415.

George sees no reason why, when Wesley is pitching, the Boston Red Sox lineup shouldn't be exactly one-third Perrell.

ANOTHER SCHEME OF NEW DEAL IS TO BE GIVEN UP

Board Expected to Dis- pose of Billions Un- able to Function

Washington, July 15—(AP)—High officials said today that elaborate plans prepared by the National Resources Board—on which President Roosevelt originally based the $4,000,000,000 work relief program—have been abandoned so far as the present jobs drive is concerned.

Lack of money and the need for speed in getting started toward the goal of 3,500,000 jobs were given as the chief reasons.

With Secretary Ickes as its chairman, the board submitted to Roosevelt last year a coordinated public works program to improve land, water and mineral resources. It suggested a permanent works program which might involve expenditure of $125,000,000,000 in the next half century.

No Plans Prepared
Explaining some of the delays in the present works program, one high official said today that it was not until May, after the work relief act was passed, that any plans for spending the huge appropriation existed except for those prepared by the board.

Earlier, when the Senate demanded information on how the administration based its classification entirely on the board's program, this official added.

He said that although the public works administration had collaborated in drawing up the program it had no plans of its own. Neither he said, had Harry L. Hopkins' relief administration because neither Hopkins nor Ickes knew until two weeks after the work relief act was signed which would be in charge.

Two Difficulties
After Hopkins was given the principal role, it was said, he found that two difficulties would prevent carrying out the National Resources Board program:

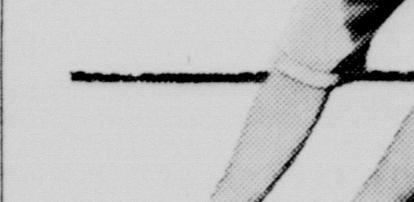

1. Much of the work it proposed, in particular for rivers and harbors, erosion control, and highway construction, would be in sparsely settled areas where the relief load is light. It also would require several years to complete. This would leave little for projects in large cities where the destitute are concentrated, or for the 750,000 or more white collar workers.

2. The resources board program called for a large expenditure on materials—how much was never disclosed but certainly more than the $1,500,000,000 to be spent on materials under the revised program.

He asked the conundrum again after knocking his fifteenth home run out of the park into the muddy James river for the league leadership. When the statistics were brought up to date the other day George with a .407 was leading all of the nation's minor league sluggers with the exception of Oscar Eckhardt of the Pacific Coast league Missions who was hitting .415.

NEW TAX BILLS WILL ENCOUNTER SERIOUS FIGHTS

Republicans Refuse to be Bound by Pacts Made in Committee

Washington, July 15—(AP)—Legislators predicted today that vigorous attempts soon will be made to write President Roosevelt's new tax plan several proposals unwanted by the White House.

Drives for a general sales tax, tariffs and repeal of some of the present "nuisance" levies were mentioned as some of the things the president's supporters must fight before they can get the tax program out of the house ways and means committee.

Republicans flatly refused to be bound today by any agreement to limit the tax bill to the levies Roosevelt suggested.

Rep. Jenkins (R. Ohio) was one of those who refused to be bound. In fact, he did not even know that the committee had voted to limit its hearings—and tacitly its tax bill—to the matters outlined in the president's message.

"I certainly didn't vote that way," Jenkins said.

Even the Republicans who were present at the secret meeting when that agreement was reached refused to vote.

Substitutes Ready
Rep. Treadway of Massachusetts, ranking Republican on the committee, long has advocated two measures and he is likely to offer them as amendments.

They are the sales tax, and the idea of forbidding the federal government to issue any more tax exempt securities.

Roosevelt has proposed a ban on future issuance of tax exempt bonds but he wants it done by a constitutional amendment. His supporters say the amendment should apply to the restriction to federal and state bonds simultaneously, giving neither an advantage over the other.

The Democrats generally feel that they are bound to vote only for: (1) New taxes on inheritances; (2) increased taxes on gifts; (3) stiffer levies on large incomes, probably those above $100,000 a year; (4) new taxes of some kind on corporation incomes; (5) levies on dividends received by corporations to prevent "evasion" of the corporation income assessment.

Sale of Dizzy to Cubs Team Denied

St. Louis, July 15—(AP)—Sam

Breadon, president of the St. Louis Cardinals' baseball club, denied today reports that pitcher Dizzy Dean had been sold to the Chicago Cubs.

"There is not a single word of truth in such a report," Breadon said. "Sale of Dean has not been discussed with any club—in fact, it has never been hinted by the Cubs that they wanted Dizzy."

The report that Dean had been sold (not carried by The Associated Press) said he would go to the Cubs organization next fall.

ONE-ARM GOLF STAR PROVES OLD THEORIES

Has Made 336 Yard Par Four Hole in An Ace

Valdosta, Ga., July 15—(AP)—One-armed Jimmy Nichols, professional at the Valdosta Country club, is proving a theory that the right hand may be more of a liability than an asset in golf.

A grade crossing accident in 1920 started Nichols on his one-armed golfing career, but now he is posting better scores with one arm than he formerly made with two.

At the time of the accident, Nichols as 20 years old, an assistant pro at the Oakhurst Country club at Fort Worth, Tex. After he lost his arm he bought some cheap left-handed clubs and shot around 175, he recalled with a grin.

In disgust, he yanked a right-handed midiron from a friend's bag and slashed back-handed at the ball. It sailed true for 180 yards.

Now he plays consistently in the low seventies. A recent hole in one on a 336-yard par four attests how that left handed swing works.

Somebody asked him the secret of it. Nichols grinned.

"I'm never bothered by putting too much right hand into it," he replied.

Knife Throwing Just Another Act in Club

Chicago, July 15—(AP)—It was just another act on a night club program when four men and a woman at a prominent table began a fuss that ended with one man throwing knives at another. The only difference was that this night was warm, and Joe Clymas, whose brother Al had been throwing knives for five years, didn't wear his protective vest. One of the blades hit Joe in the chest. At a suburban hospital it was said he would recover.

PREPARATIONS FOR FOOTBALL YEAR UNDER WAY

Illinois Management is Getting Ready for Campaign

Champaign, Ill., July 15—It may seem to be a far cry from these July days to football but it is only two months to the opening of practice on Sept. 10 and there is much activity behind the scenes in the Illinois camp.

"Chilly" Bowen, business manager, one of the busiest members of the summer staff, will soon return from a brief vacation trip to Alaska to resume his task of preparing for the season, which means looking after numerous details. This year there are five home games, Ohio university and Washington, two non-conference opponents of considerable strength, and three Big Ten visitors, Iowa, Michigan and Chicago.

In August Manager Bowen will mail ticket information and application blanks to approximately 35,000 persons, including subscribers to the stadium, varsity lettermen, members of the Alumni association, graduates since 1926 who reside in this state and general public patrons whose names are on the mailing list.

Same Admission
Although there is a tendency elsewhere to increase admission prices, the Illinois scale remains at $2.20 for Big Ten games and $1.10 for the non-conference engagements.

Out at the stadium, Ben Cracker, efficient custodian, is getting the great structure and its playing field in spick-and-span condition for the fall. Ike Hill, equipment boss, is making ready the paraphernalia which the Illini will wear when they go out to battle—jerseys, pants, headgear, stockings, shoes and whatnot.

Agreement by the Big Ten directors that numbers should be worn on the front of players' jerseys necessitates a working over of the Illinois jerseys. Otherwise the Illini gridiron tuggery will adhere to tradition.

WHAT THE NEWS WAS AROUND DIXON IN YEARS GONE BY

50 YEARS AGO.

Frank, nine year old son of Edward Knight of South Dixon, died suddenly after returning from the hay field with his father, death being attributed to the extreme heat.

"There is a land that is hotter than this," we presume, but not very much.

Union Agreement to Replace NRA Hope Textile Workers Now

Philadelphia, July 15—(AP)—Plans for "a legally enforceable union agreement" to replace NRA control were before the American Federation of Hosiery Workers at the opening session of its 24th annual convention today.

The federation announced the agreement proposed would cover wages and working conditions and provide for arbitration in labor disputes.

In a pre-convention statement, William Smith, secretary-treasurer of the federation, said union representatives from 18 states will be asked to make "a widespread attack" on wage problems of seamless hose workers.

"The number of employees in the seamless section of the industry is decreasing," Smith said yesterday, adding the less than 60,000 seamless workers are not as well organized as the 80,000 full-fashioned workers.

PROCEEDINGS OF SPECIAL MEETING OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

State of Illinois, County of Lee—ss.
On Friday, the 28th day of June, A. D. 1935, at the hour of ten o'clock in the forenoon, the Board of Supervisors of Lee County met at the Court House in the City of Dixon, in Special Session pursuant to a Call signed by one third of the Members of said Board and filed with the County Clerk as provided by law.

The following members were present, Honorable William Burhenn, Chairman, and Supervisors Hemenway, Buchingham, Wanner, Archer, Ramsdell, Spencer, Garrison, Beede, H. L. Gehant, Stanley, Anderson, Mau, Kranov, Willis, Finn, Avery, Wolf, Emmitt, Hart, Melhusen, Shippert, Kuebel, L. L. Gehant, Risetter and Kneisch.

The Chairman, William Burhenn explained to the Members of the Board that the purpose of this special meeting is on 15d preferred money to be used in construction of Rockford Bridge. This money must be appropriated prior to July 1st in order to use money for any specific purpose, otherwise the State can use it for any purpose they see fit.

At the Special April, 1935, session of the County Board they appropriated Six Thousand ($6000.00) from funds not otherwise appropriated for the construction of the Rockford Bridge. Said appropriation is now found out not to be sufficient to build the bridge as per specifications and requirements of the State.

Lengthy discussions were given by various members of the Board and County Superintendent of Highways, Fred W. Leake, relative to an additional appropriation from Funds not otherwise appropriated for construction of Rockford Bridge or else Thompson Bridge on South line of Section 32, Town 39, Range 2, Alto Township.

Upon motion of Supervisor Garrison, seconded by Supervisor L. L. Gehant the appropriation made at the special April Session in regard to the bridge to be constructed is rescinded.

The Road and Bridge Committee then presented the following Resolution:

15D CONSTRUCTION RESOLUTION OF COUNTY BOARD OF LEE COUNTY REQUESTING APPROVAL OF A PUBLIC HIGHWAY AS A STATE AID ROAD UNDER THE PROVISIONS OF SECTION 15D OF THE ROAD AND BRIDGE LAWS.

RESOLVED, by the Board of Supervisors of Lee County, that public interest demands the construction of a bridge on the public highway designated as a State Aid road, said section being described as follows:

Beginning on the public highway designated as State Aid Route No. 8 at a point near the quarter section corner on the South line of Section 32, Town 39 north, Range 2 East of the 3d Principal Meridian.

The construction of a bridge, 40-foot span with 20-foot roadway.

RESOLVED, (1) that the proposed improvement heretofore designated shall be constructed in accordance with the provisions of Section 15d of the "Road and Bridge Laws," approved June 25, 1915, with subsequent revisions, and shall be of P. C. Concrete construction, to be built by Contract, and shall be designated as Section 15B 15d.

(2) that there is hereby appropriated for the construction of said section the sum of Two thousand and no 100... Dollars ($2,000.00) from funds not otherwise appropriated.

Three thousand six hundred seven and 08/100 Dollars ($3507.08) from refund money due under Section 15d of the State Aid Law, and RESOLVED, that the County Clerk is hereby directed to transmit two certified copies of this resolution and Building Division of Highways, Springfield, Illinois, through the District Engineer, within ten (10) days of the date hereof.

Thereupon on motion of Supervisor H. L. Gehant, seconded by Supervisor Beede, the said resolution is adopted by the Board and the matter now coming on for a vote of the various members of the Board, the clerk proceeded to call the Roll.

Those voting Aye: Supervisor Hemenway, Buckingham, Wanner, Archer, Ramsdell, Spencer, Garrison, Beede, H. L. Gehant, Stanley, Anderson, Mau, Kranov, Willis, Finn, Avery, Wolf, Emmitt, Hart, Melhusen, Shippert, Kuebel, L. L. Gehant, Risetter, Kneisch, 25.

Those voting Nay: None.

Thereupon, the chairman declared said motion as being unanimously carried.

A motion was made by Supervisor Kneisch, seconded by Supervisor Ramsdell that the mileage and per diem be read.

Thereupon, on motion of Supervisor Hart, seconded by Supervisor L. L. Gehant, it is resolved by the Board of Supervisors that the following sums be allowed members of the Board for their services rendered at this session of the Board, and the Clerk is directed to issue orders as follows:

It is asked that the County Board give their approval for the permit of Lee County Tuberculosis Association to join with the Lee County Tuberculosis Board and erect such buildings.

Upon motion of Supervisor Spencer, seconded by Supervisor Shippert it is moved that the Lee County Tuberculosis Sanatorium Board is hereby authorized to expend from their funds whatever sum they feel will be necessary or expedient to construct a summer camp for Tuberculous children on the Sanatorium Site situated East of Dixon in Lee County, and the same is hereby approved by the Lee County Board of Supervisors.

TROOPS PATROL BELFAST ALERT FOR OUTBREAKS

Religious Rioting Has Resulted in Five Deaths, 74 Hurt

Belfast, Northern Ireland, July 15.—(AP)—Steel-helmeted troops with fixed bayonets patrolled the streets today, alert for any new outbreak of the disturbances which resulted in five deaths and the wounding of 74 persons.

Comparative quiet prevailed during the early hours after a series of religious riots, originating with last Friday's celebrations by the Protestant Orangemen of the 245th anniversary of the Battle of the Boyne.

The latest casualty was 7-year-old Kathleen Stewart, who was shot down by a sniper from behind a chimney pot last night while she was playing on a street.

She was taken to a hospital with a bullet in her shoulder.

A search for arms was passed today. Police took elaborate precautions to prevent further bloodshed during the funeral for two of Friday's victims, Mary Broderick, 29, and Edward Withers, 18.

An armored car was detailed to accompany both funeral processions to the cemetery. The place of burial was kept secret.

The disorders reached a climax yesterday, marked by looting and incendiarism, as crowds wrecked four shops and set fire to two of them.

Wheels made of laminated wood were tried out in London subways to lessen noise and reduce weight.

It has been estimated that 110,000,000 people speak German.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JO DARIEN, snatching her first year in college, learns her father is out of work. Jo gets a job as bookkeeper in a small marine supply house. She is engaged to BRETT PAUL, athletic star.

DOUGLAS MARSH, handsome. Wealthy comes to the store to buy equipment for the summer colony he is establishing at Crest Lake. Jo works overtime, meeting with the order, and Marsh asks her to have dinner with him the next night.

Marsh takes her to a fashionable restaurant. He tells her about his summer colony at Crest Lake and offers Jo the job of waitress there. Scarcely able to believe such good luck, she accepts.

Dancing with Marsh, Jo sees RARE MONTGOMERY, a school acquaintance. Jo is sure RARE will tell her about seeing Jo with Marsh.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER VII

WHEN Douglas Marsh's car had been brought to the curb of the Olympic Bowl and he and Jo had stepped inside Marsh asked "Would you like to ride around a bit before I take you back to the apartment?"

"It's a heavenly night for it," Jo admitted. "But—the truth is, I'm just a little tired. I think it's from the shock of being appointed the waitress at Crest Lake Inn. I know I won't believe it when I wake up in the morning!"

"In that case I'll telephone just to reassure you. Say about 9?"

Jo nodded. "I'm afraid I'll need the reassurance, Mr. Marsh."

They were soon before the Fendale, and Marsh hopped from the roadster to see Jo to the door.

"Really," Jo said, "I can't thank you enough for a delightful evening—and for the opportunity at Crest Lake."

"I didn't mean to make a business conference of it," Marsh laughed. "But I'm leaving for the lake tomorrow afternoon and I thought I'd better arrange every thing tonight. Do you suppose you could come down day after tomorrow?"

"I think so."

"I'll see that your ticket is delivered to the apartment by tomorrow afternoon. And I'll make arrangements at Lytzen's for things to be charged to Crest Lake Inn. If they don't have just what you want I'm sure they'll get it for you."

He held out his hand. "Good night, Miss Darien—but couldn't I call you Janet?"

"Janet?"

"Isn't that it?" he laughed. "I noticed the initials 'J. D.' on your band bag at Brown's this morning and I'm just guessing. Suppose you give me the right name?"

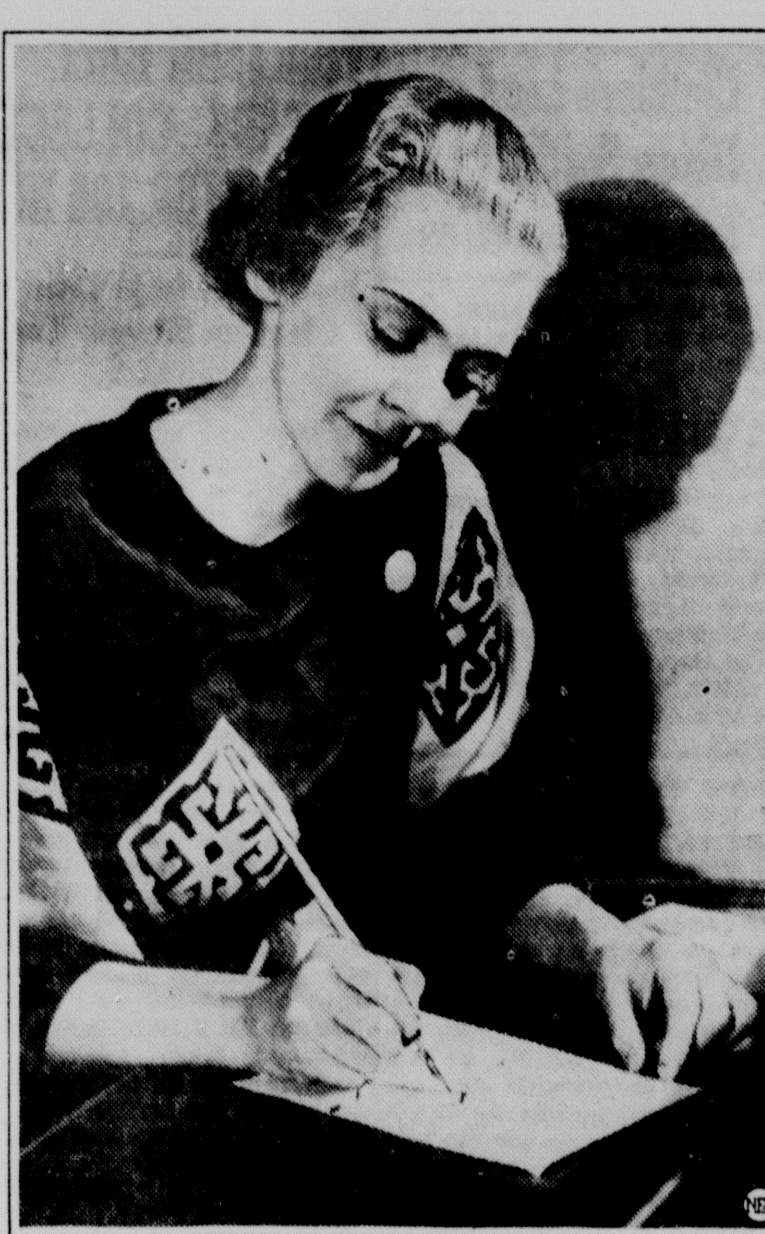

"It's Jo."

He smiled. "I like that. . . Jo."

Once again he took her hand for the fraction of a moment. "Good night, Jo. I'll see you at Crest Lake day after tomorrow."

"Right," said Jo. "Good night."

NEXT morning she awoke with the first pink streaks of dawn and lay abed reviewing the events

Her letter was lengthy, telling the whole story up to the offer from the astonishing Douglas Marsh.

of last night. Wide awake, she looked at her wrist. It was hardly 5 o'clock.

"Four hours until he telephones," she told herself. "And I actually won't be able to believe it until he does telephone."

But Jo Darien was too young and alive not to believe that good fortune is always a possibility. After a delicious stretch between the covers she leaped from bed and took a quick shower. Then, stepping into her hules and throwing a robe around her slenderness, she sat down to write her mother and father. She knew that they would find it hard to understand just what had happened, so her letter to them was lengthy and involved.

telling them the story from the time she had started to work for Brown until she heard the offer of still another position from the astonishing Douglas Marsh.

"He's really a very charming person," Jo wrote her mother, "and just because I know you're always worrying I want to tell you that for Mrs. Marsh, his mother, is at Crest Lake. They say she's rather a formidable person, so I doubt if there's much chance of my having an affair with a millionaire, even if I wanted to!"

Jo thought it best not to mention the matter of the new clothes. That would be a little difficult to explain to Mrs. Arthur L. Darien, who had very definite ideas about such things.

She had just finished addressing the envelope when the telephone rang. It was just seven—two hours before Marsh had promised to call—and Jo wondered who could be telephoning her at this hour.

Tubby's gasp was audible over the wire. "What do you mean?" Jo told her ex-roommate the whole story, and when she had finished Tubby could only exclaim, "Well, all I can say is that you must have four-leaf clovers embroidered on your scanties. I never heard of such luck!"

"Nor I," Jo confessed. "You'll have to spend a week at Crest Lake this summer, Tubby."

"I'll try my best. I finally got everything packed, and I'm taking the afternoon train for home," Tubby told her.

Jo replaced the receiver after Tubby's reiterated promise that she would try to plan at least a few days at Crest Lake. It would be fun to have Tubby there for a while, Jo told herself. She was likely to get lonely with so many strangers about—all friends of Marsh, and therefore people with a lot of money, no doubt.

She'd really need some decent and raised a spectre of new uncertainty.

Prince Ernst Rudiger von Starhemberg, leader of the Fascist home guard and Vice Chancellor who would step into Schuschnigg's place, hastened back from a holiday in Italy. Prince von Starhemberg greeted the Chancellor on his arrival from Linz with the body of Frau Schuschnigg.

The Chancellor's spiritual adviser, Monsignor Stefan Matzinger, asserted at Linz that Schuschnigg was determined to maintain his post.

He was with Schuschnigg for many hours after the Chancellor's automobile plunged from the road near Linz Saturday and crashed into a tree.

Physicians there announced that the Chancellor's physical condition was satisfactory. Police said they believed sabotage was not responsible for the accident, but persisted in an investigation, sending the wreckage to Vienna for inspection.

The Chancellor's nine-year-old son, Kurt, still in a hospital, asked repeatedly for his mother and was finally told of her death.

things to wear. Marsh had been right about that, and it would be part of her job to see herself well dressed. A day at Lytzen's would be like a dream come true, for it was the most expensive and exclusive establishment in the city. All Jo had ever bought there was a pair of gloves—and today she was going to order a complete summer wardrobe!

She looked at her watch again. Seven-thirty. She'd have time to dress and go out for breakfast before Marsh telephoned. To her faint discomfort she found herself looking forward to the sound of his pleasant voice. She wondered idly if already she were attracted by him, like any silly school girl; and then, facing herself suddenly in the mirror, she denied this self-doubt hotly.

This morning she found a new and somewhat expensive restaurant for breakfast, treating herself to orange juice, cold and sweet; to thin slices of toast with marmalade; and then an omelet as light as a feather—topping it all with the best coffee she had tasted in ages. When she received her check without dismay Jo could not help but be amused by the sudden difference in her attitude. Yesterday she had been thinking frugally, while this morning she had deliberately sought the most expensive-looking restaurant in the neighborhood of the Fendale.

Suddenly she thought: "Wouldn't it be terrible if I went back to the apartment and found a message from Douglas Marsh saying the whole thing was off?"

But when she reached the door of her apartment the telephone was ringing frantically. A little breathless, Jo answered it.

"Good morning!" Marsh said. "I was afraid for a moment that you'd run away from your new job—and me."

"Oh, no," Jo laughed. "I've just come in from breakfast."

"Well, I'm telephoning to tell you that it's still all perfectly true. It wasn't the music and it wasn't the cocktails. I'm sending over your ticket to Crest Lake this afternoon. And they're expecting you at Lytzen's."

"I'll be there," said Jo gayly. And then, as a pang of conscience struck her: "Oh, and Mr. Brown. Did you tell him?"

"I'm telephoning from there now. Everything's fixed. He thinks I've picked a splendid addition to Crest Lake."

"Please let me talk to him," Jo said. When she heard Brown's gruff voice on the wire she went on, "I hope you're not angry with me, Mr. Brown, but you see—"

"Sure," he interrupted her. "It's all right. I'm mighty glad you got a good job. I guess I owe you a morning's wages, too."

"You don't owe me anything," Jo assured him. "If I hadn't been in your office yesterday morning I'd never have had this chance. . . . Goodbye, and good luck."

She turned from the telephone and walked to her window, looked down at the hurrying crowds below. For one dreadful moment she could not believe that this had happened to her, out of all the young women down there who wanted it to happen to them. If only Bret—

But Bret would be at Placid Beach.

Jo lifted her eyes and saw, beckoning over the roof tops, the huge sign which crowned Lytzen's. (To Be Continued)

CHICAGO GIVEN NEARLY ALL IT SOUGHT IN LAWS

Legislature and Horner Obliging; Kelly Rebuffed But Once

Springfield, Ill., July 15.—(AP)—Except for the right to license handbooks, Mayor Edward J. Kelly and his democratic followers at Chicago got just about everything they wanted from Governor Horner in his action on the legislature's bills.

Among other things, Kelly's Chicago organization has the authority to establish a "permanent world's fair" on the lakefront site of the two Century of Progress Expositions. The fair bills were permitted by the governor to become law without signature at Saturday midnight.

Without definite information as to what is going on inside Democratic headquarters, the fact that the governor didn't veto most of the Chicago bills he wouldn't sign was interpreted today as another indication that the rumored Horner-Kelly split in the 1936 campaign might not develop.

Only two bills remained on Horner's desk today, awaiting signature or disapproval. One was the amendments to the banking law. Another proposed changes in the liquor control law. In his long deliberations Saturday, the governor vetoed the bill to permit the state treasurer to license safety deposit vaults.

In a nine-page carefully written statement, filed in the Secretary of State's office along with the Chicago bills, Horner declared he did not

AUSTRIA MOURNS PREMIER'S WIFE

Vienna, July 15.—(AP)—Thousands of black flags gave Vienna an aspect of deepest mourning today for Frau Herma Schuschnigg as her husband, Chancellor Kurt Schuschnigg, clung to the leadership of the government.

The body of the young matron lay in state at a district church near historic Schoenbrunn palace, awaiting burial tomorrow. An undertone of apprehension prevailed that the automobile accident in which Frau Schuschnigg was killed might have injured the Chancellor more severely than was at first apparent.

This possibility held prospects of far-reaching political consequences

CUBS, CARDS BUILD LONG WIN STREAKS

Chip Away Giants Big National Loop Lead

By HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR. (Associated Press Sports Writer)

The St. Louis Cardinals and Chicago Cubs apparently have called a truce in their warfare—at least until their next series—while trying to chip a few games off the Giants' National League lead.

Instead of slamming each other down at regular intervals, these two clubs have stepped off on a pair of notable winning streaks and already have succeeded in cutting the New York margin to six games.

The second-place Cards, by walling the Phillies twice yesterday in celebration of the official hoisting of the 1934 world championship pennant, extended their string of victories to ten straight to equal Detroit's high mark for the season.

The largest crowd of the St. Louis season, 25,000, turned out to see the Cards take a pair of easy victories, 5 to 1 and 10 to 1, behind the masterful flinging of Paul Dean and Bill Walker.

The Cubs bowled over the cellar-dwelling Braves 7 to 6 for their seventh straight triumph as Frank Demaree smacked out three hits, drove in four runs and scored two. Tex Carleton, relieving Lon Warneke, gained his tenth victory in eleventh starts against Boston in two seasons.

Shortage of Pitchers

Meanwhile the Giants, suffering from a shortage of pitchers, took a 4 to 2 setback from Pittsburgh as Cy Blanton held them to six hits while three reserve flingers, Al Smith, Allyn Stout and Frank Gabler, failed to check the Pirates.

The Reds, who have been doing a little winning on their own account, moved into fifth place with a double triumph over Brooklyn 9 to 4 and 4 to 2 to sweep the five-game series.

With the aid of the clouting Athletics, the Yankees managed to stave off one threat to their American League lead by splitting a doubleheader with the Chicago White Sox while the A's turned back the second-place Tigers 4 to 3 in ten innings. That increased the Yankee lead to 1½ games.

Ted Lyons, Chicago veteran, blanked the league leaders with five hits as the Sox won the opener 3 to 0, and gained his tenth victory, but Johnny Broaca bested three Sox hurlers in the afterpiece and won 5 to 4 as Lou Gehrig's 14th homer supplied the odd tally.

The Red Sox reduced Cleveland's fourth-place margin to a single percentage point by winning the opener of their twin bill 14 to 3, belting out 19 hits while Wes Ferrell gave nine for his 14th victory of the season to move into the first division when the Sunday "curfew" halted the second encounter at 6:30 with the count tied at 2-2 after ten innings.

The St. Louis Washington clash was rained out.

Clothiers Lead Dixon Softball League, Ten Wins

The Clothiers, now hold first place in the City league softball standings as a result of their victory over the Buster Browns, with ten wins and two losses.

The schedule for this week is as follows:

Tonight, 7:30 p. m., Youngmarks DX vs Buster Browns; 8:45 p. m., Reynolds Wires vs Millway Chix.

Wednesday, 7:30 p. m., Buster Browns vs Millway Chix; 8:45 p. m., Youngmarks DX vs Reynolds Wires.

Thursday, 7:30 p. m., Borden's vs Clothiers; 8:45 p. m., Wink's Specials vs Knack's Leaders.

PARKER ANNEXES TENNIS TROPHY AFTER VICTORY

Spring Lake, N. J., July 15—(AP)—The Clifford Hemphill Bowl was stacked today among the trophies of Frank Parker, and another adversary was avenged. The Lawrenceville, N. J., star defeated Charles Harris of West Palm Beach, Fla., yesterday to gain his third and final leg on the trophy in the Bathing and Tennis club invitation tournament.

He also squared the count with Harris, who defeated him in the Kentucky state championship two weeks ago. Parker won 8-6, 6-4, 6-0.

After 20 minutes rest, Parker came back to the courts with J. Gilbert Hall of South Orange, N. J., to win the doubles final from Hal Surface, Jr., of Kansas City and Wilbur Hess of Port Worth.

THIRTEEN BALL STARS COLLECT OVER 100 HITS

Joe Medwick, Cardinal Clean-up Slugger Tops the List

Chicago, July 15—(AP)—Thirteen players, seven in the American league and six in the National, already have collected 100 or more safe hits this season.

Proof of the strategy of managers in placing the right hitters in the right spots in the batting order is shown in the list of century hitters. Three of them are lead-off men, three others bat second, and five bat third and two operate in the clean-up role.

Joe Medwick, clean-up man for the world championship St. Louis Cardinals, tops the field with 116 hits, good for a batting average of .369. Roger Cramer of the Philadelphia Athletics tops the American league and ranks second to Medwick with 114, six of which he collected in six consecutive trips to the plate last week to tie the modern record.

A table of the hitters, giving their positions in the batting order, totals so far this year and final totals of 1934 follows:

| Name                  | Bats | Hits | 1934 Tot. |

Independents Are Victorious Over Prison City Nine

Joliet was defeated by the Dixon Independents for the second time, Sunday afternoon at the Airport, by a 6 to 5 score. The invaders got eleven hits off Pitcher Joe Miller, and the locals banged out eight hits.

In the fifth inning, Joliet pushed home three scores after two men had been retired. At one point in the game, Joliet led 5 to 3 and the locals tied the score at 5-5 going on to win the contest. The highlight of the contest was a triple by Elmer Miller who had almost reached home but was forced to scurry back to third to avoid a putout.

Manero Considers Entering Canadian Open Golf Tourney

Pontheill, Ont., July 15—(AP)—Tony Manero of Greensboro, N. C., who won the General Brock Hotel Open golf tournament, was looking today for new fields to conquer.

He said he would enter the Canadian Open in Montreal next month. Manero posted a medal score of 291 for 72 holes to nose out Bud Donovan of Winnipeg and Byron Nelson of Ridgewood, N. J., who were one stroke behind him.

OKLAHOMAN IS PREPARED FOR WESTERN MEET

Golf Championships To Get Underway Mountain Links

Colorado Springs, July 15—(AP)—Zell Eaton apparently hasn't lost the range of the Broadmoor's hilly, 6500-foot-high golf course.

The sturdy Oklahoma City marksman, here to defend his Western Amateur championship when the cannonading starts at the 36th renewal of the classic tomorrow, stroked a 67, three under par, in a practice jaunt yesterday. He knocked off four birdies and had only one unsatisfactory hole—the par 4 sixth where he took a five—in his machine-like round.

Chick Evans, Chicago, in pursuit of his ninth Western title, arrived in time for only an abbreviated tune up of 11 holes, which he traveled in one above par, despite three birdies. Home folks are pulling for L. B. (Bud) Maytag, transplanted Iowa manufacturer and a well known tournament campaigner, to bring the title to Colorado. Maytag bagged 69 yesterday.

David (Spec) Goldman of Dallas who last to Eaton in the finals of the 1934 western and was runner-up to Lawson Little in the National Amateur, shot a good 71.

First and second round matches will be played Thursday, quarter-finals Friday, semi-finals Saturday and the championship Sunday.

GERMAN DAVIS CUP NET TEAM BEATS CZECHS

Indicate Stiffest Challenge for U. S. Outfit

Praha, July 15—(AP)—The German Davis Cup team, led by the titled Gottfried Von Cramm, stood today in the path of the United States team seeking to reach the challenge round with England.

The Germans yesterday eliminated Czechoslovakia in the European finals with a display of tennis that indicated strenuous competition for the Americans in their first matches at Wimbledon Saturday.

Baron Von Cramm defeated the Czech ace, Roderich Menzel, in a blistering joust which found Menzel completely exhausted at the end, 6-2, 6-4, 4-6, 5-7, 6-1. Heiner Henkel, young German whose tennis has given new impetus to Teutonic hopes, turned back Jon Caska, 2-6, 7-5, 6-4, 6-0.

The result of the five matches was a 4-1 victory for Germany. Menzel having saved Czechoslovakia from a whitewash by defeating Henkel in a two and a half hour battle in the first day's play.
